Watch the video about question marks.

Write down 5 questions you would like to ask the giant. Remember question marks come at the end of every question!

Maths

Jim gets the giant some new glasses and a wig. He had to measure around the giant's head.

Try measuring your:

Head, hand span, height, foot. Ask an adult to help. Help them measure theirs too. Write down everyone's measurements.

Who has the longest arms? Legs? Foot?

Listen to Jim and the Beanstalk' by

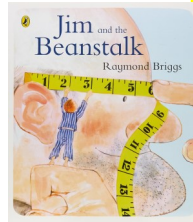

Raymond Briggs. Is it like a story you have read before?

Can you draw Jim and write down words to describe him?

At the end of the story the giant leaves Jim a letter. Can you reply to his letter?

You might be wondering if he is kind? Is there anyone else at the top of the beanstalk with him? You could tell him a little bit about yourself too.

Remember to begin with Dear and end with from.

Science

In the story a beanstalk grows.

Do you have an seeds you could grow? Why not try some cress, beans or sunflowers?

What does it need to grow and be healthy? Keep me us to date with how you get on.
