

Hello Reception!

Here is your home learning for this week. Don't forget to email me all your wonderful work!

Handwriting

Here are some more numbers for you to practise. I have included a rhyme to help you.

Our amazing bug hotel has been standing empty for a few weeks but not for much longer! We have some of our Reception friends returning this week and they will be helping to get it ready for the bugs who will be checking in. I wonder who our first visitors will be!

Over the next few weeks we will think about the different minibeasts that might visit and I will keep you informed of any guests we may have.

Do you think we will see a caterpillar? There is a brilliant story about a caterpillar. Can you guess what it is? You can watch an animated version here.

You can also enjoy listening to a song about a caterpillar here

Here are some lovely caterpillar arts and craft to try

Here is your final task to help Mrs Desantis achieve the Eco Schools Green Flag award.

This week I would like you to listen to the noise the trees make in the wind. Can you recreate the noise using your voice? I wonder if you could make an instrument that makes the same sound.

Imagine that the trees are talking to each other. What might they be saying to each other or to the other plants and animals to make them feel happy?

Draw your tree and ask your grown up to write all the nice messages that the tree is saying.

Sunday 21st is a special day for your Dad/Grandad. It's Father's Day! Here are some ideas for making your own card.

I wonder what else you could do to celebrate 'Father's Day'. I can't wait to see how you make it a special day.

Do you remember our 'days of the week' song? I couldn't find an online version but here are the words.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday

Friday, Saturday, Sunday too

1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 days

Each day different and every day new.

I have found another 'days of the week' song which we will sing when we are back together. You can listen to it here. We will start singing with Monday not Sunday

Here is another activity for you to do.

Can you put the days of the week in the right order? Draw what he eats inside the right day.

Can you guess what the 'ur' word is? Have a go at writing them, you could also draw a picture to go with it.

1. If you cook your food for too long, it will _____.
2. What is an animal covered in?
3. You might visit this place on a Sunday or for a special occasion such as a wedding/christening.
4. What is this person doing?
