Can you match the capital letter to its lowercase letter?

A G Q
C F O
S E D

Now have a go at writing the capital letters

CAODEFGQS

It's important to keep moving. Why not give this butterfly dance a go!

Have you missed our Friday afternoon treat?

This week Aunty Mabel and Pippin visit a butterfly sanctuary.

Have you ever been to 'Butterfly World' in Stockton? It may still be closed but would definitely be worth a visit as soon as they are open again.

I hope you enjoyed watching the story of 'The Very Hungry Caterpillar'. The children in school have really enjoyed retelling the story. I wonder if you can retell it too.

The caterpillar turned into a beautiful butterfly. Here are some butterfly activities to try

Don't forget to make them symmetrical!

The caterpillar went through lots of changes. Can you remember all the different things that happened to him? Here are some ways you could show me the life cycle of a butterfly.

Butterflies have beautiful symmetrical wings. Do you know what symmetrical means?

Here is a nice little video to help explain it.

There are lots of symmetrical things in our environment. Here are some examples. Can you find any more?

Can you write these 'ow' words?

Choose 1 to write in a sentence. Don't forget to use a capital letter at the start of your sentence, finger spaces between your words and a full stop at the end.

Keep listening to the Jolly Phonic songs here
